

Biographical notes

Martine Vallée
Chair of the Board

Martine Vallée has dedicated over 33 years to the field of education. She began her career as a high school music teacher. With her strong command of a second language, she was also entrusted with teaching English. Over time, she developed a strong interest in management. After several years as a school principal, she pursued her career in management as Director of Educational Services at the Centre de services scolaire de Charlevoix.

From 2012 to 2025, she served as Director General of the Centre de services scolaire de Charlevoix. She holds bachelor's degrees in music and education from the University of Ottawa, a graduate diploma in school administration and a master's degree in educational management from Université de Sherbrooke.

Martine is particularly interested in human development, the principles of learning organizations, and the agency of community actors. Preparing young people to meet current challenges and engage with today's issues is at the heart of her work. She is also involved with the Instance régionale de concertation de la Capitale-Nationale, whose mission is to mobilize and support stakeholders engaged in the educational success of children and young people aged 0 to 20, while considering the diverse needs across the entire Capitale-Nationale region.
